

Lunch Hour Lecture

Richard Black

BBC News Environmental Correspondent

News Websites: A Green Medium ?

Richard Black covers environmental issues for BBC News website and for national and international radio. While BBC World Service Richard reports on scientific and environmental affairs and has presented programs with a similar theme, such as the pioneering series “One Planet,” which he co-founded. He has also covered major international events such as the 2006 UNFCCC meeting in Nairobi, the 2005 UN World Summit in New York and the 2002 UNAIDS Summit in Barcelona. Richard has also contributed to the BBC’s journalist training program.

1:00pm – 2:30 pm

Friday, November 9, 2007

Room 104