

Experiments in Journalism

the school of JOURNALISM
University of British Columbia

Science Journalism: Hype, Spin or the Real Thing?

Discover for yourself at this free public forum moderated by Sid Katz, executive director UBC Community Affairs, and with panelists:

Chris Mooney: *Washington correspondent, SEED Magazine;
author, The Republican War on Science*

Edna Einsiedel: Professor of communication studies, U of Calgary

Elizabeth M. Simpson: Senior scientist, Centre for Molecular Medicine and Therapeutics, UBC

Helen Fallding: Assistant city editor, Winnipeg Free Press

Margaret Munro: Science reporter, The National Post

Wednesday, March 7, 7:00 pm
UBC Robson Square, Room C300

Held in conjunction with the official launch of the

Canadian Science Journalism Awards

Best Print — $3000

Best Broadcast — $3000

Best Internet — $3000

Best Overall — $3000

Limited seating: jandciu@interchange.ubc.ca or 604-822-8747 to register
For detailed information please visit www.sciencejournalism.net

barrylando.com

